Unemployment insurance premium

Self-employed persons are not required to pay an unemployment insurance premium for themselves.

If a self-employed person is an employer, it is required to pay unemployment insurance premiums on payments made to the employees and these are the self-employed person’s business-related expenses.

Last updated on 08.01.2025